West Allis, WI 53214

Dear Mr. Ziebler:

I am thrilled to inform you that this year, as part of Time Warner Cable's National Teacher Awards, three of the 20 National Award winning entries selected to receive Crystal Apple Awards were from Time Warner Cable – Southeastern Wisconsin Division, and one of the winning entries comes from the West Allis-West Milwaukee School District!

1. Jacqueline Pollman & Mary Widen; Cooper Elementary School
Project Name: "Helmets Happen Here"
2. Kathleen Avery, Rose Haas & Carol Sirko; Cooper Elementary School
Project Name: "Sew Many Stories"
3. Linda Wamboldt; West Milwaukee Middle School
Project Name: Part 1 "Soldiers Home Reclaiming Our History"
Project Name: Part 2 "The Wall of Fame: Those that serve to keep us free"

It is no surprise to us the extraordinary work displayed by our local teachers and we are extremely proud of their accomplishments. Each teacher team will receive a $1000 cash grant and a trip to Washington, DC from Time Warner Cable, for the official presentation ceremony on Tuesday, June 8, 2004.

Locally, Time Warner Cable Southeastern Wisconsin Division awarded nearly $3,000 to area teachers who submitted entries for the "Teaching Creatively with Cable" awards. Please see the attached complete listing of teachers, their projects and respective schools.

Time Warner Cable has long supported education efforts, both nationally through the industry's public service "Cable in the Classroom" initiative and on the local, grassroots level. That support began with complimentary cable service for schools. It now includes free materials and workshops to help teachers better utilize cable television and the Internet. Road Runner, Time Warner Cable's high-speed broadband service, and a cable modem are offered to schools and public libraries in our service areas as well.

We have worked closely with teachers every step of the way -- and have been amazed by their dedication, creative energy and innovative thinking. We hope you will join us in congratulating our teachers as they once again demonstrate the very best of Wisconsin!

Sincerely,
