Call #14-48789, 11/01/2014, 2035 hrs: 6200 W. Greenfield Av, Six Points Pub & Grill

On 11-01-14 at 2035hrs, officers observed a large gathering of motorcycles and full-patch outlaw motorcycle gang members from numerous clubs, coming and going from Six Points Pub and Grill, 6200 W. Greenfield Ave. An orange Camaro was also observed pulling up to the bar, either picking up or dropping off parties, and squealing its tires loudly as it left the area w/b on Greenfield Ave. There have been ongoing citizen complaints regarding the bars in that area of Greenfield Ave, regarding excessive noise due to vehicles and bar patrons. Officers responded to the bar, where two motorcycles were observed parked on the grass on city property. Officers entered the bar to advise the motorcycle owners to move their bikes to a parking spot near the bar, or on to the street. While inside the bar, officers were met by bar owner, Douglas M. Ross, M/W 11-06-61. Ross seemed agitated and was very inquisitive of officers' presence in the area. Ross explained he was hosting an "All Saints Day" party for the numerous outlaw motorcycle gangs in the area in his establishment. When the Officer asked Ross if we could check to make sure he had a licensed bartender on staff, he became very upset with officers and reluctant to comply. Ross allowed officers to come into the bar; however, he turned off all of the music and made a scene inside of the bar, calling all of the patrons (well over fifty - with outlaw motorcycle gang insignia/patches) attention to the two officers inside of the bar. Ross began yelling that the police wanted to do a compliance check, "but it was not a big deal (sarcastically)." Ross continued to rant about the police presence and was confrontational and disrespectful. A patron, with Outlaw MC patches eventually approached Ross, telling him to calm down and to comply with officers' request, reminding him that our requests were not a big deal. As a whole, it was clear that Ross was resistive to the police presence inside and outside of his bar. Ross made a point to get the Officer's name off of her uniform and while officers were outside, several parties inside of the bar were videotaping the officers.
