EMERITUS SENIOR LIVING

About Us

In 1993, Emeritus began offering an alternative to seniors who could no longer live at home, yet did not require full-time skilled nursing home care. Since then, Emeritus has grown to become a leader in the assisted living industry, with one of the largest networks of assisted living and retirement communities in North America. Our primary goal is to provide the support residents need to live full and satisfying lives, while helping them maintain their independence and dignity.

Each of our communities operates like a family-owned business. This gives our staff the flexibility to customize independent living programs and assisted living services to reflect resident's individual needs and interests. As a result, each community maintains the unique personality that makes it special to its residents and their families. Yet, all communities embrace the same high standards that have made Emeritus a preferred choice for elder care and premier senior living.

Our History

Emeritus was founded by Daniel Baty, Ray Brandstrom and Frank Ruffo in 1993, with a single community in Renton, Washington. With more than 75 years of combined experience with nursing homes and senior housing between them, they decided to start an assisted living company focused on providing high quality service and care at an affordable price for people needing extra help with the activities of daily living.

In 1995, Emeritus went public on the American Stock Exchange. At the time, the company owned and operated 26 assisted living and retirement communities in 15 states throughout the U.S. In 2007, Emeritus acquired Summerville Senior Living, at which point Granger Cobb and many of the senior management team of Summerville joined the company. In September of 2008, Emeritus changed its listing from the American Stock Exchange (AMEX) to the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE).

Today, Emeritus owns and operates over 289 communities in 37 states across the U.S. and continues to expand. While we offer one of largest networks of assisted living and retirement communities in North America, we stay true to the core ideals on which we were founded: making a difference in people's lives by providing service of the highest quality and value in a supportive environment, promoting the health, independence and social interaction of seniors.

Our Mission

Respect for, by, and among all team members

Lessee fails to do so, the Lessor may remove any such improvements and charge the cost thereof to the Lessee.
