Dear Mayor Bell:

I recently sent you a letter announcing the addition of 12 new channels to Time Warner Cable's Digital Line-up. We are once again adding another channel to our growing channel selections. I am pleased to announce that as of today, May 12, 2004, Time Warner Cable has added MyMC on Demand to Digital Channel 1181. MyMC on Demand features the best of AOL for Broadband's music content, including original, in-studio Sessions@AOL performances from today's top artists, select performances from the Broadband Rocks weekly concert series, and today's most popular music videos from BMG, Sony Music Entertainment, Universal Music Group and Warner Music Group. This channel is being made available at no additional charge, on-demand and commercial-free to all customer with the Digital Access Package or higher.

In Addition, I am writing to inform you that G4 (Digital Channel 149) has acquired TechTV (Digital Channel 143) and will combine the two networks effective Friday, May 28, 2004. The new network will be called G4techTV and will air on Digital Channel 149 beginning Friday, May 28, 2004. If customer's have questions or comments, they can e-mail mergerinfo@g4techtv.com or call 1-800-839-7880. It is important to remember that Time Warner Cable is not dropping either G4 or TechTV; the networks themselves have made the decision to combine their programming.
