37	My Father was raised in West Allis when it was a nice place to live in and raise a family. However, with all of the crime and drugs that have taken hold here, I no longer walk alone at night and I do wonder why much of the crime/suspicious activity is from black males. I am not a prejudiced person as I grew up in a very diverse environment. But this is different. I applaud the police and first responders for their efforts in trying to keep the city safe and healthy, but it seems a losing battle. My question is "Why West Allis?" I realize crime and those that commit it do not discriminate 'where' they do it, it's just that it has gotten so bad to the point that we are considering a move.	1/4/2016 1:02 PM

75	A bit hill-billy, there is an "aura" of embarrassment when people ask you where you live.Maybe our main boulevards could be landscaped(really nicely) and adjacent big businesses be required to install small "green spaces" in their huge parking lots,of course with-out loosing their "required"parking spaces.Home Depot is required to keep carts outside (per fire Chief),is this really necessary?,perhaps a plan B might work(wooden fenced in corral,or a designated interior space?).Better street lights and things of that nature can "stir" people to improve their "talk" about their surroundings!...Such as... Hey this is really nice,maybe West Allis is on the upswing!!! 210	where I live	9/26/2015 9:58 AM
211	Unfortunately, we have a comically bad reputation. It's baseless when you look at apples to apples comparisons with other municipalities, but it's there anyway. It's awesome to see things like the recent article stating that we're trending up! We need more of that, positive vibes, to expel the negative mental image our city conjures up.	9/26/2015 9:52 AM
212	Glad we came here to live from Illinois!!!!Close to things, Up and coming!!!	9/26/2015 9:01 AM
213	we grew up here we where married here we bought a home here our children where born here they went to school here and now we are ashamed to say we live here	9/26/2015 8:44 AM
214	Trying to make a comeback. Family values. Trendy touches of old (farmers market) amongst the new (restaurants, shops). Still a lot of corner bars.	9/26/2015 8:37 AM
215	trouble. crime. ghettoish	9/26/2015 8:36 AM

216	Blue Collar	9/26/2015 8:09 AM
217	Growing up here I was SO proud! I felt safe. Now the first word that comes to mind is "dirty" The city's demographics are changing. The east side neighborhoods are trash and unsafe. We need to upgrade our properties which will somewhat increase their values. Get rid of "slumlords" who are only looking to make a buck and claim back our image. The city is trying...we just need to push harder and be more strict.	9/26/2015 7:38 AM

457	State fair, Raceway, Allis Chamber	9/24/2015 12:54 PM
458	I remember what it used to be. I am not being negative....giving my opinion. In some ways the city seems to be moving forward.....stronger action needs to be taken to clear up the east end. I still feel fairly safe but wish there wasn't so much low income housing being let in. I am a widowI listen to the scanner and belong to some fb groups That help me track what's going on. I think we have a great police force.....they deserve special recognition everyday....when I am out and see any police officer I thank them for what they do.	9/24/2015 12:52 PM

574	My city, followed closely by "Stallis," rundown, and bars.	9/24/2015 10:42 AM
575	Sadly, I think a lot of the stigma that comes along with the worst West Allis.....but as an outsider moving here, I've had nothing but pleasant experiences here. I fail to see how trashy everyone else seems to think the city is....I walk a lot and love the tree lined streets and the wide variety of businesses. I think West Allis is the best kept secret in Wisconsin.	9/24/2015 10:41 AM
