"Dangerous Dog"

Hello I'm writing this letter because my dog is now labeled as a "dangerous dog". I live in the household where Justice (my dog) lives. She is not a dangerous dog. I have a baby sister who is 20 months old. Her name is Chelsea, her best friend is the dog, she plays with her, sleeps with her, kisses and hugs her and just jumps around her. Justice never hurt the baby in anyway. If Justice hears the baby crying she goes up to her and licks her to see if she's okay. Justice also is friendly with other dogs, before she came into my home she lived with other dogs at my grandma's. They always got along. Today, every once in a while my grandma brings her dog over and Justice and my grandma's dog play and get along. Before Justice got adopted she was an unwanted dog, she got adopted from a Rescue home. She was also abused by animals before she was rescued. So she isn't really comfortable around men strangers. My dog isn't dangerous. — Dog's best friend
